Analysis & Response:

Dear Candidate,

Thank you for reaching out to us regarding your assessment results and the violations marked against your submission. We understand that receiving such news can be concerning, and we appreciate you seeking clarification.

Our assessment platform employs advanced proctoring measures to ensure a fair and secure testing environment for all candidates. These measures are in place to uphold the integrity of the assessment process and validate the authenticity of the results. Any detected deviation from the prescribed guidelines is automatically flagged by the system.

Upon reviewing your assessment session and the associated proctoring logs, we found several instances that indicate violations of our assessment integrity policy.

Summary of Detected Violations:

- 1. Unauthorized Device Usage (Mobile Phone): The proctoring system detected multiple instances where a mobile phone was observed within your testing environment and actively used. The use of any unauthorized electronic device, especially a mobile phone, during an assessment is strictly prohibited as it can compromise the fairness and validity of your results.
- 2. Webcam Monitoring Flags (Looking Away/Unusual Movement): There were numerous instances where the proctoring system flagged your webcam feed for sustained periods of looking away from the screen or exhibiting movements inconsistent with focused test-taking. While occasional glances away are normal, the frequency and duration of these detections raised concerns regarding adherence to the assessment guidelines, which require candidates to remain focused on the assessment interface.

These detected activities are considered significant violations of the assessment terms and conditions you agreed to before starting the test. Consequently, based on these proctoring flags, your assessment was marked as invalid, leading to your rejection.

We understand this might not be the outcome you hoped for. Our proctoring system is designed to capture objective evidence to maintain a level playing field for all participants.

For your reference, the detailed logs captured during your assessment, indicating the specific times these events were detected, are provided below.
